

In 2010 Casa Rinaldi is now an international company that has hundreds of customers, such as supermarkets, hotels and restaurants, scattered in Italy and in Europe, particularly in Germany, which is presented as the main market. But with a growing demand coming from non-European countries also it becomes necessary to widen. From Castelnuovo Rangone of Modena Emilia company expands in Tuscany with the acquisition of a specialized facility in bottling in Certaldo in the province of Florence. This is the Tuscany Hardy and Vinegar has a 2,000 square meters production site with three bottling lines with the most modern industrial techniques.

That same year, Casa Rinaldi decides to expand the stock of his headquarters. The investment is large, but at the end of the work the company can boast an efficient and modern facility with more than 7,000 square meters and 15 meters high; 500 meters of commercial office space and a new showroom. It is a building constructed according to the most modern antiseismic criteria and with the use of sustainable materials such as high density polycarbonate. As part of the most energy efficient and least impact on the environment, the new warehouse is also equipped with over 1,500 photovoltaic panels for electricity production estimated at 253,700 kg less CO2 emitted into the atmosphere. But that's not all because with a wide range of products that has been constantly rising further in the years Casa Rinaldi also wanted to adopt a series of cold storage of last generation able to store food in both refrigeration regime freezing. Following this expansion in 2011 it is decided to modernize the offices by creating a single, large open space that could improve collaboration and communication between staff.
